

8 reasons to bsmart

Value for money

thanks to our 15 years R&D we have achieved product specifications to match the application needs, so you only pay for what you need

Exhaustive range of media and displays approved by printers and media owners in different countries worldwide

European certifications

REACH & flame retardant by independent testing (SGS)

Best performance for price product specifications, raw materials and production process chosen to maximize the output

Performs good & looks good complete product definition from technical specifications to packaging and branding

Strong production capacity several leading factories to produce bsmart products to minimize lead-times, all our factories are ISO9000 approved and have long experience in their fields

Onsite Quality Control

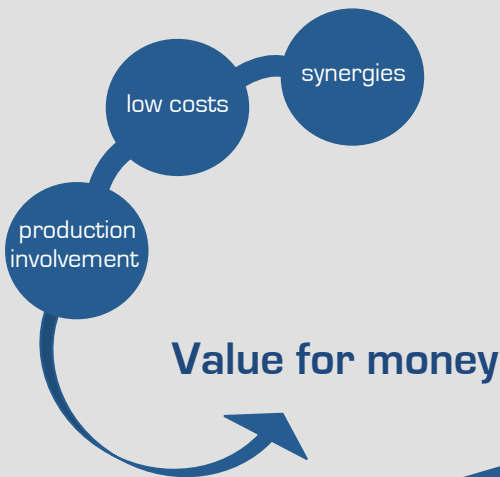

production and loading control onsite for each shipment performed by bsmart staff

Flexibility

test bsmart products in sample orders or group different items in one shipment

About bsmart

bsmart is a young brand of media and displays for the signage and advertisement market, developed with a 15 years expertise in product/application, with the goal of bringing competitiveness to the printers by offering real value for money.

A value-for-money range of high quality media and displays bsmart products are currently present in 10 European countries and comply with the highest European specifications such as REACH and flame retardant.

